INSPIRING A LOVE

INSTILLING A LOVE FOR DEMOCRACY FROM "MAN, GOD, AND MY COUNTRY"

BY CLARENCE DAILEY, SENIOR

My friends, we need to do some straight thinking.

We need to resist with all our strength not only the Communists, but especially those who would play into their hands by advocating softness, compromise, the so-called broad view, and assorted other sweet-sounding evidences of weakness and defeat.

We need to stand up straight and reassert our confidence and dignity.

And most of all, in a voice so loud and clear that its reverberations will be felt within the walls of the distant Kremlin, and perhaps even in the hallowed chambers of the learned Justices, we need to join with our forefathers and proclaim once again to all the world, "In God We Trust".

TO HARDING ACADEMY

Young relationships formed in a Christian atmosphere like that of Harding are remembered and valued throughout life.

Campus scenes like this will be fondly recalled in later years by all students.

Preparing our young people

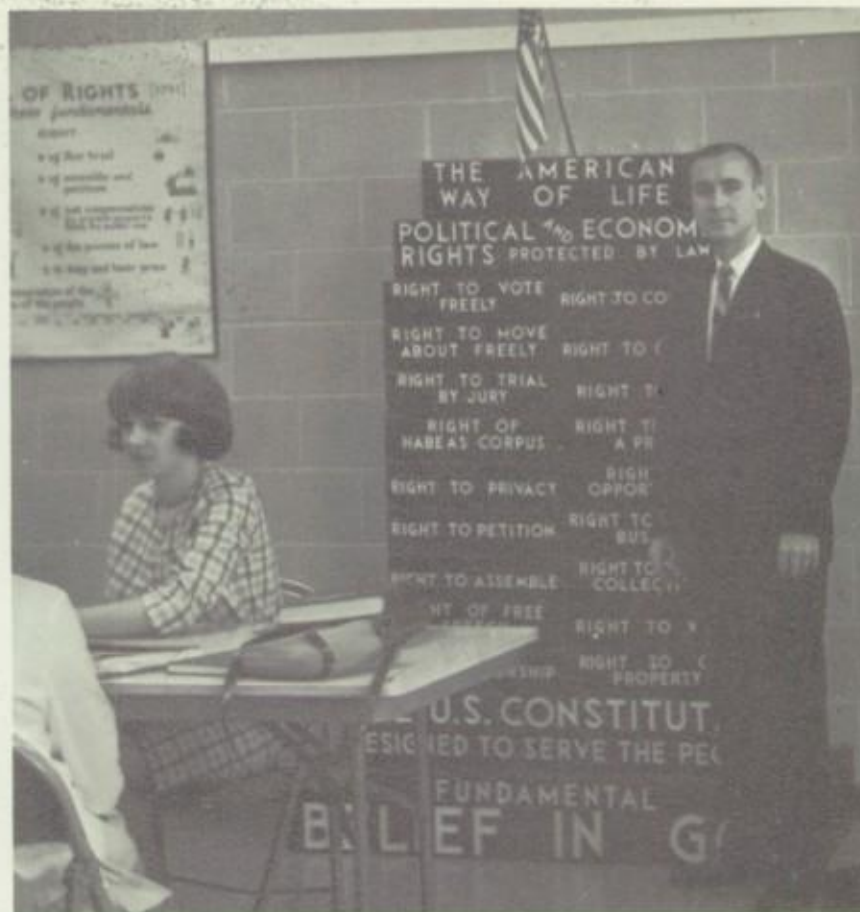

The light of liberty shines in the hearts of Harding students each morning as we pledge our allegiance.

A spirit of fun in proper proportions is developed, as well as the pursuit of knowledge.

Youngsters learn the importance as well as the fun of being familiar with their library.

The building blocks of Americanism are taught and emphasized in classes at Harding Academy.

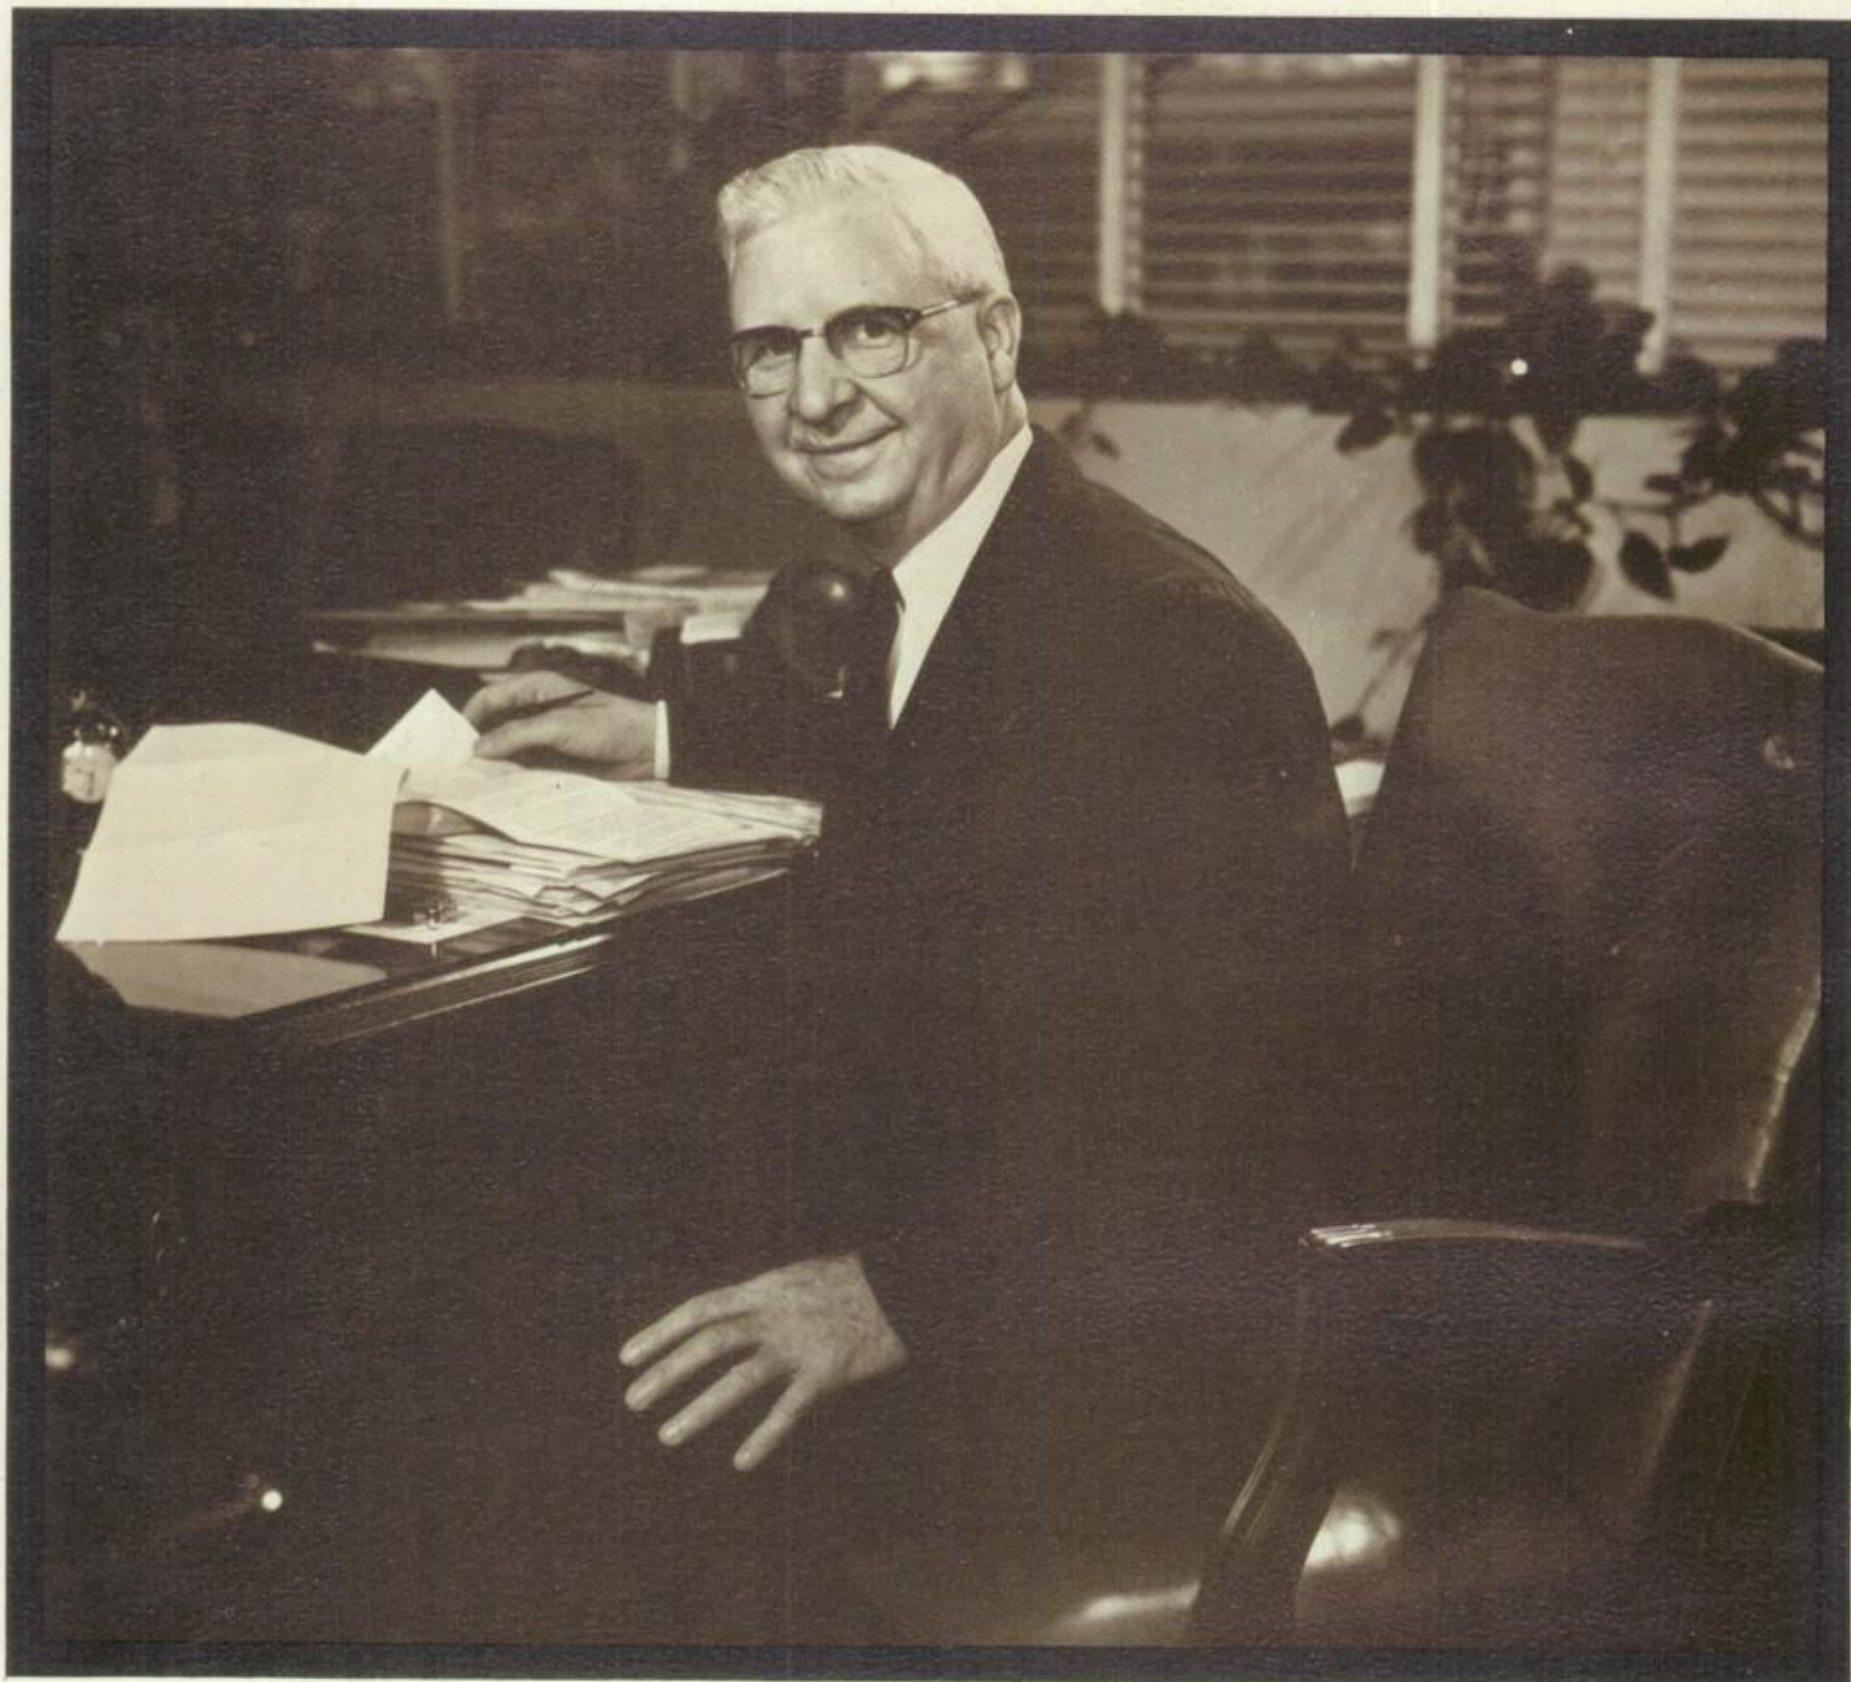

for well rounded lives

Elementary students learn the significance of the flag-raising by the example of campus leaders.

School spirit and enthusiasm are generated and enjoyed at parties and pep rallies.

Exemplified by Dr. Benson

We, the 1966 Shield staff, proudly dedicate our book to a principle and a person, the principle of Americanism in the personification of Dr. George S. Benson.

Dr. Benson served as president of Harding College, our parent institution, for twenty-eight years. He is also chancellor at Oklahoma Christian College. He has probably made a greater contribution to Christian education than any other individual this century.

Dr. Benson is nationally known as an advocate of Americanism. Since the origin of the Freedom Foundation in Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, he has received awards annually for his dedication to freedom. Few people have been so consistently honored. He founded the National Education Program in Searcy, Arkansas, and is now serving as its director. He built Harding College into an example of Christianity and citizenship working hand-in-hand.

For his advancement of freedom we have sufficient cause to be grateful. However, the influence of Dr. Benson comes much closer to us. It was he who assumed control of Memphis Christian School in 1957 and supervised the building of it into a fully accredited high school.

We thank you, Dr. Benson, for your life and its example of Americanism and Christianity.

Behind the Scenes - Leadership

Following the formal resignation of Dr. George S. Benson, Dr. Clifton L. Ganus, Jr. assumed office as president of Harding College. Dr. Ganus holds membership in Alpha Chi, national honor society. He is a participant in the Lion's Club, Searcy Chamber of Commerce and serves on the Board for the Quapaw area Council of the Boy Scouts of America. Dr. Ganus lectures nationally on Americanism before various civic, industrial, and educational groups. Each summer at Harding College, he directs a youth seminar on Americanism for the benefit of high school students. His numerous appearances before Memphis groups in the past year has shown his desire to serve the needs of the entire Harding family.

Dear Students,

Hold on to what you have. Enthusiasm, zeal, dedication, high ideals and ambitions are characteristics necessary for success. Treasure them highly and hold on to what you have. Keep the sparkle in your eyes as you look steadily toward the goal you have set for yourselves this year.

There is something new about Harding Academy. It is that something you can feel but can not describe. It is present in the chapel service each morning and in the halls and class rooms. It could be felt at the all--school party and at ball games. One of last year's graduates said that he noticed the "team spirit" in the goal-line stand against Searcy that he felt had not existed before. Perhaps the word "spirit" does describe the new atmosphere we are experiencing. What ever it is HOLD ON TO WHAT YOU HAVE.

Be true to your school, your family, your God and yourself by putting forth your best effort in everything you do. While you are putting forth your best effort why not help someone else to do the same. You will both benefit by it.

Sincerely yours,
Harold Bowie

CAMPUS LIFE

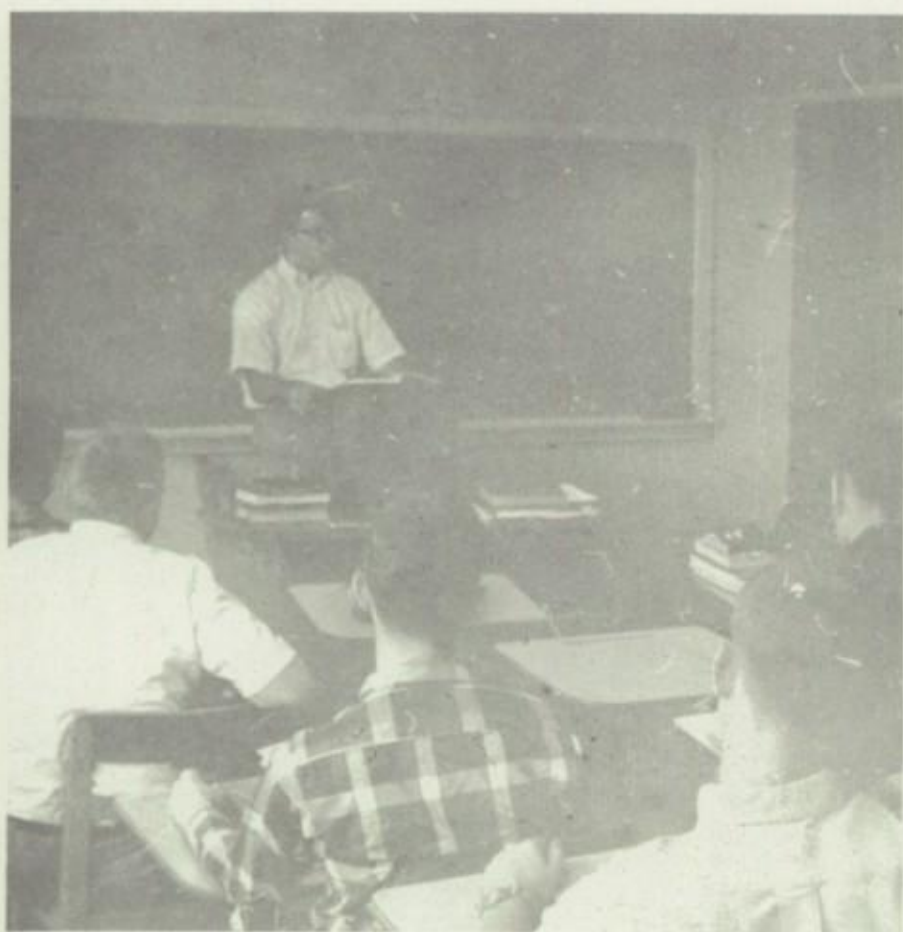

The most valuable lessons learned by all at Harding Academy come from our daily Bible classes.

A typing course proves an invaluable asset for term papers and themes, both now and later.

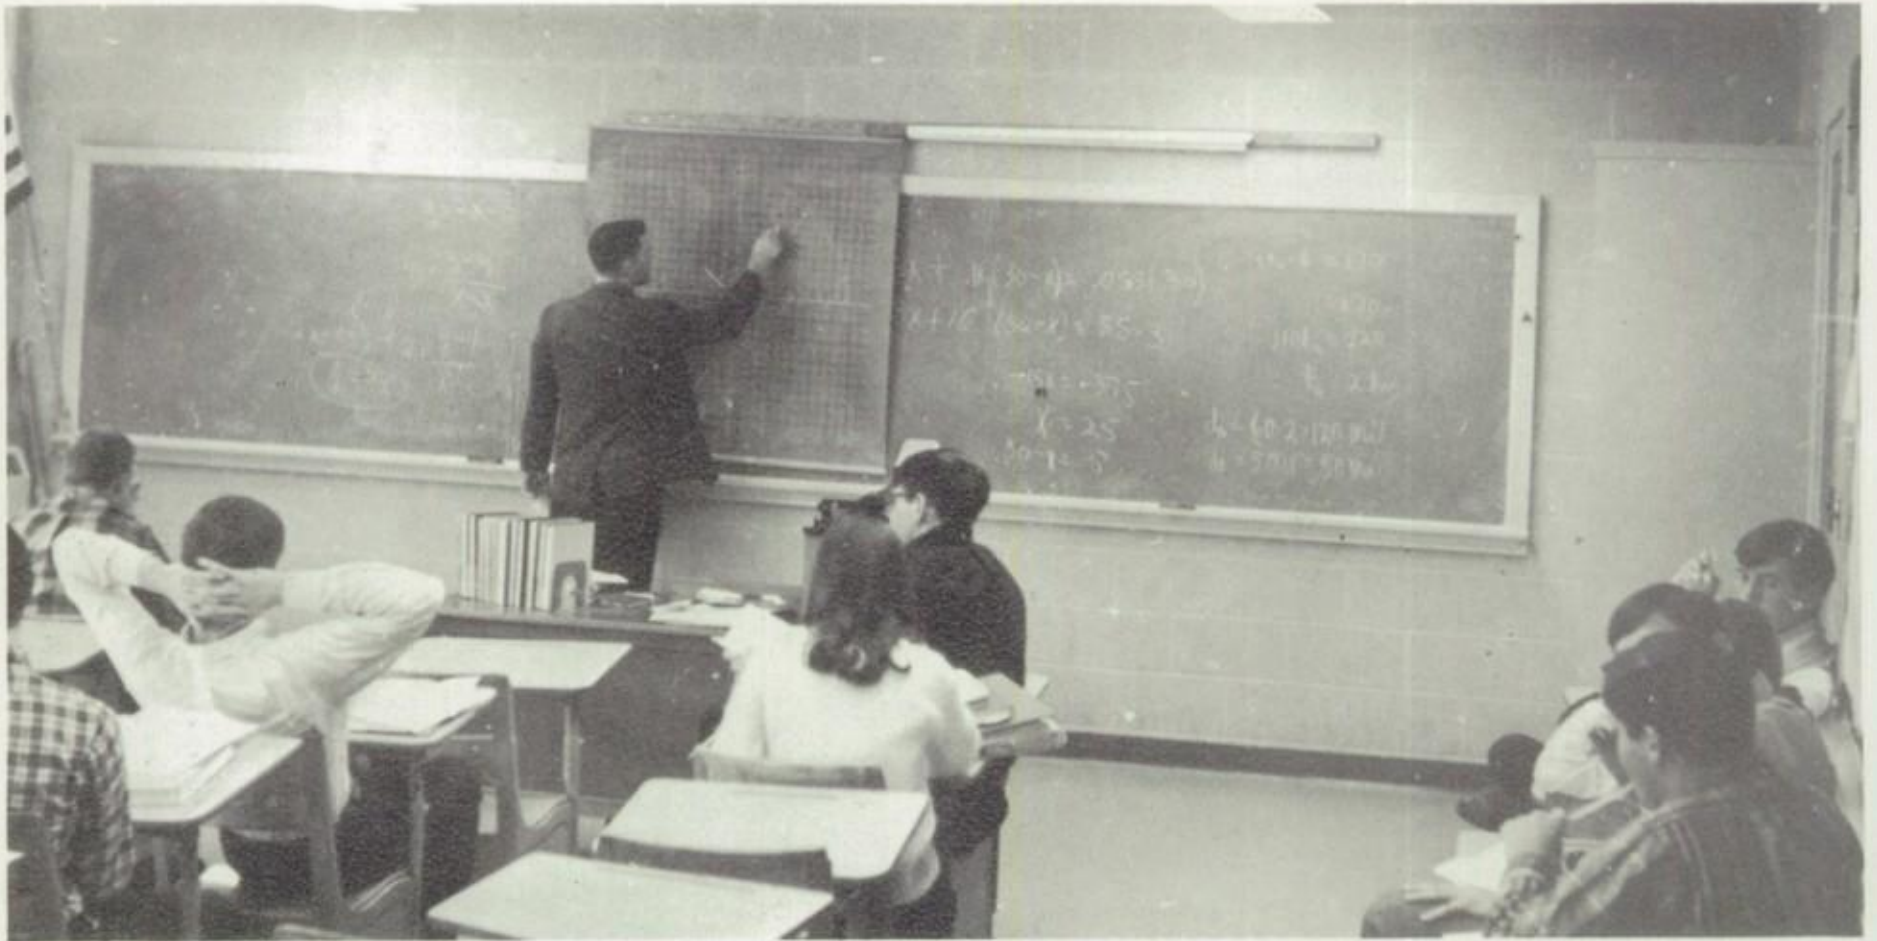

Practical Lessons Mold Our Skills

Students gain incomparable self-assurance and confidence, as well as speaking proficiency through entering a speech class.

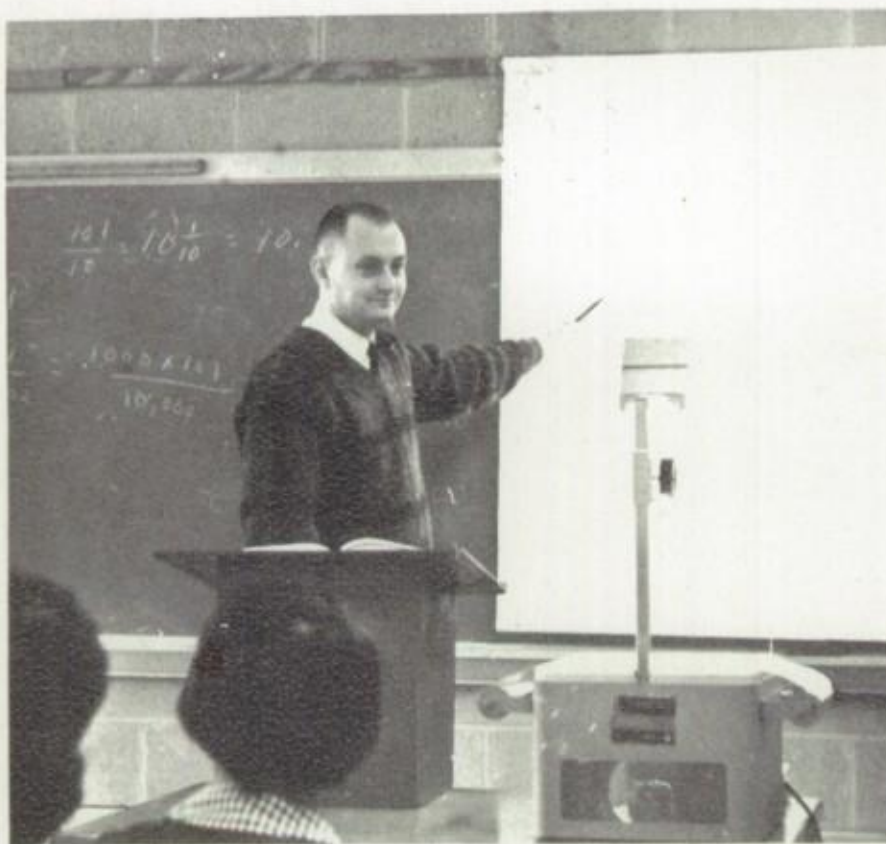

Girls get first-hand experience in cooking, sewing, and other domestic skills through Home Economics class.

High school students under Mr. Sheumaker work to master the complicated world of graphs, angles, and equations. Understanding math opens new horizons in a modern world of progress and growth.

Math Teaches The Measure Of Life

Mr. Simpson seeks to give junior high pupils a basic knowledge of the workings of mathematics.

Exploration into the wonderful world of math affords knowledge and better understanding about the world we inhabit.

In biology labs we discover the wonders of life, sometimes by dissecting a VERY dead frog.

Health Class explains the many systems of human anatomy, as well as many first aid procedures.

Science Shows The "How And Why"

Research and experimentation provide fascinating and often startling explanations of the wonders of science and our universe. Chemistry and physics students find themselves awed by the perfections and imperfections of our existence.

In language classes, instructed by Mrs. George Beasley, students learn of far-away places and cultures.

These studies also provide the basis of better understanding about our own English language.

Classical Courses

Mr. Sullins imparts the fundamentals and various forms of music in his music appreciation class.

Preparing a life mask is one of the most suffocatingly interesting fields investigated by art classes.

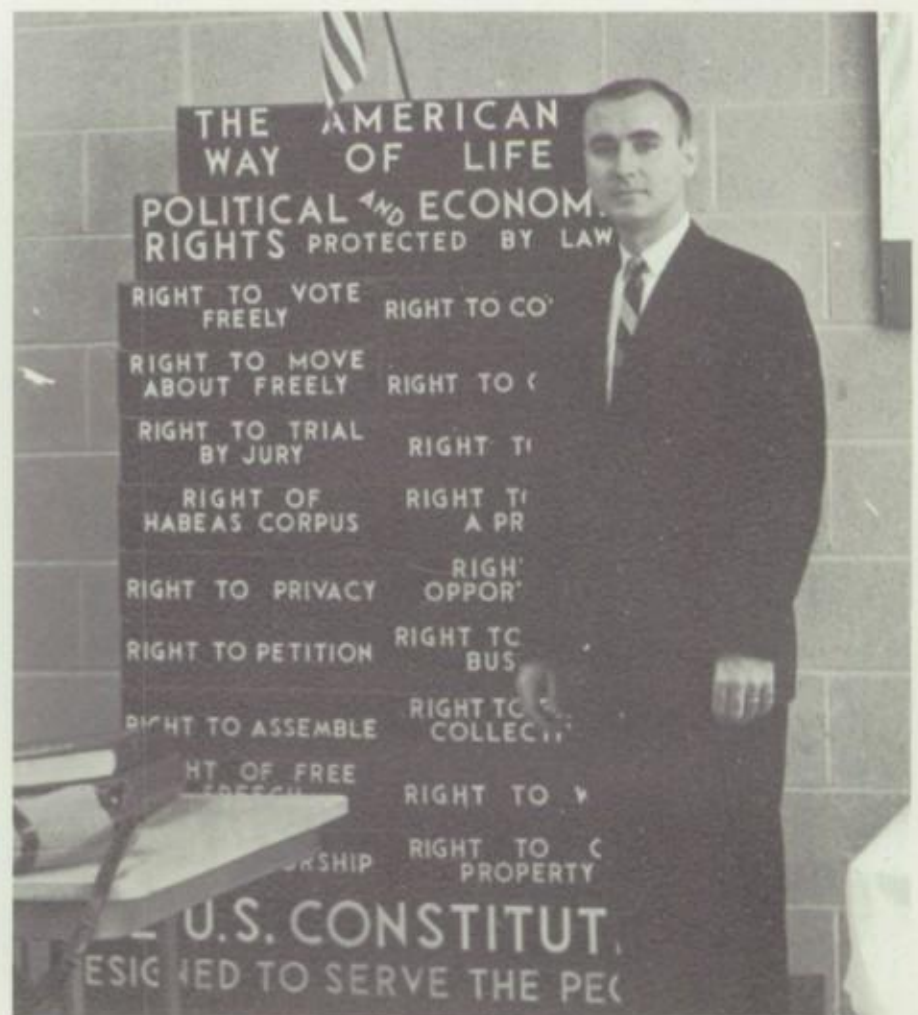

Problems of Democracy explains our American system and its advantages and disadvantages. Students also learn of other major theories and doctrines, and how they confront the United States today.

Promote Our Culture

This scene of witches and cauldrons was re-enacted by members of senior English while studying Macbeth.

The building blocks of freedom and our heritage are discussed in American History, under Mr. Alley.

Days begin slowly as teachers and students straggle in, then suddenly the RUSH of campus life.

Our gate is the symbol of the division between studies and play. When it closes, the break

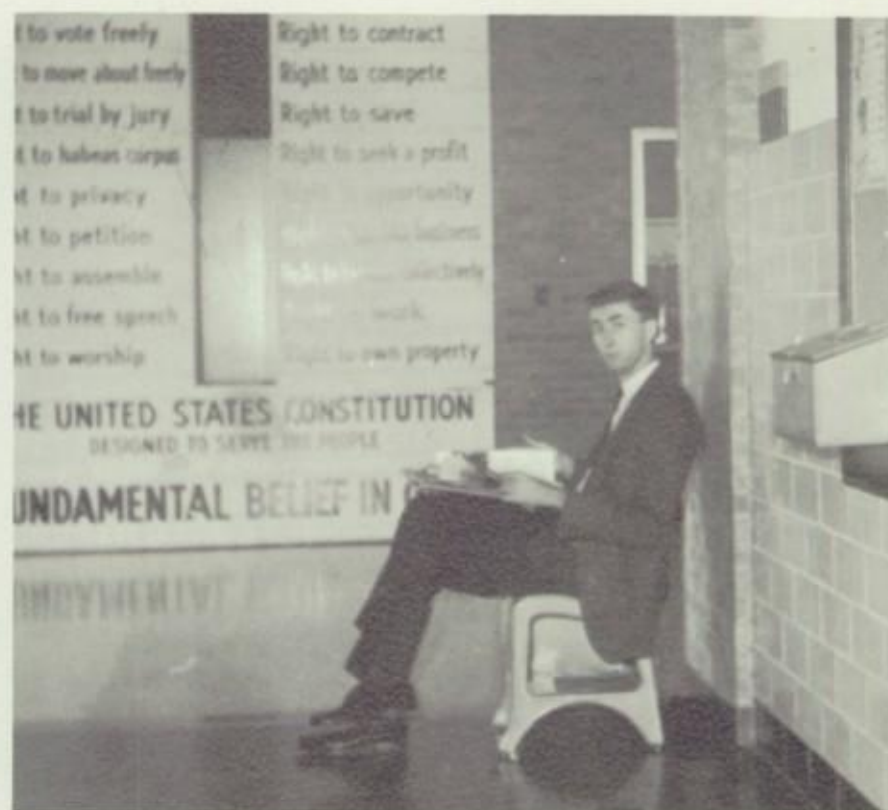

This Is The Pleasant

The friendly noise and bustle of the cafeteria are refreshing after the drone of morning classes.

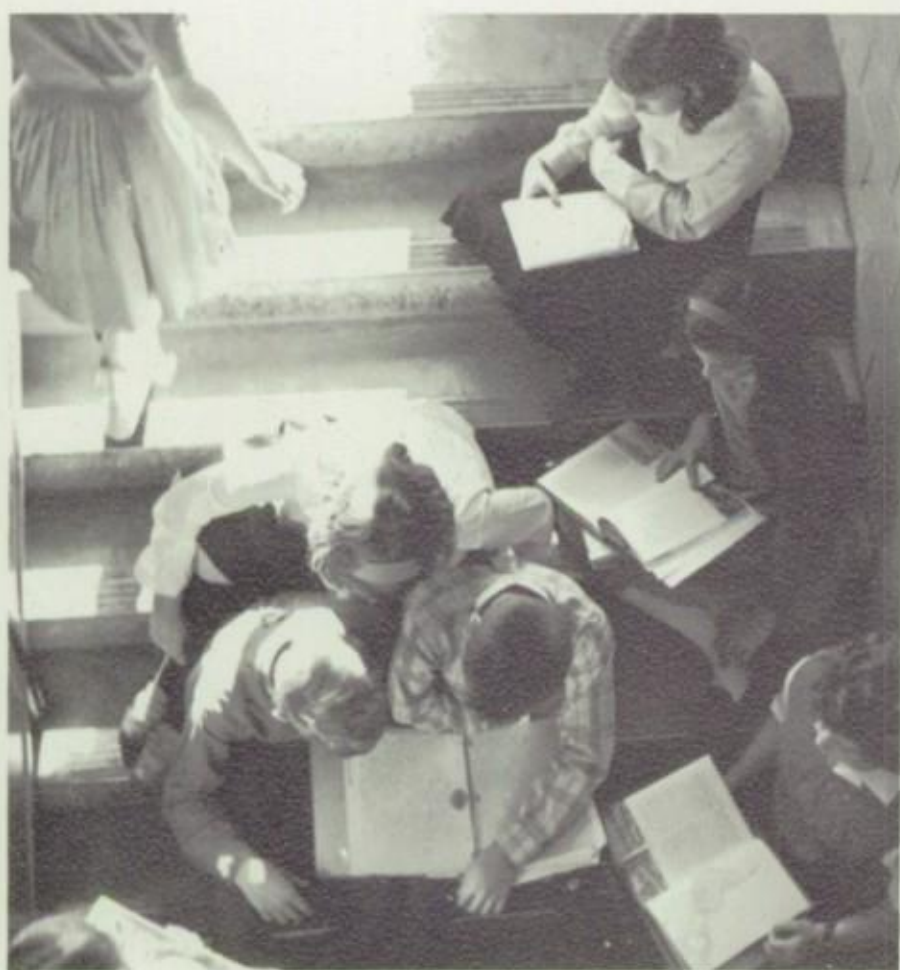

for lunch has begun. When once again it opens we stream once more to class.

The everpresent hall monitor is indeed a common sight during the noon break at Harding Academy.

Familiarity Of Routine

The stairs are a favorite meeting place for some students during free time for snacks and jokes.

Clumps and clusters of laughing students congregate around the Coke machine for friendly gossip.

Harding students were treated in January to a performance of championship gymnastics by the Southern Illinois team.

Class and club projects are long remembered with pain and pleasure, but over all pride.

We Find The Time

Singing can be rewarding and fun the junior high sextet learned in their hours of practicing.

We learn to work in cooperation with others through many scholastic and extracurricular activities.

The year opened with a light 'n lively get-acquainted party in which new students met old pros.

For Frolic As We Work

The gymnasium is the scene for many school activities. The experience of being part of this perspiring, rollicking, sober, or restless mob through chapel, ball games, speakers, and plays is marked indelibly in our memory.

As part of our Homecoming festivities, a mock Court composed of senior football players, was presented to the student body during a pre-game pep rally. These "beauties" were far surpassed by the actual court, Homecoming night.

Our Hearts Hold Special Places

A nostalgic moment to recall is decorating the goal posts on a brisk, windy, autumn afternoon.

Who could forget the roar of the crowd, the excitement of the slippery-slidy gridiron action?

The eighth grade candidates, Richard Snow and Robin Schumacker, were chosen Valentine King and Queen.

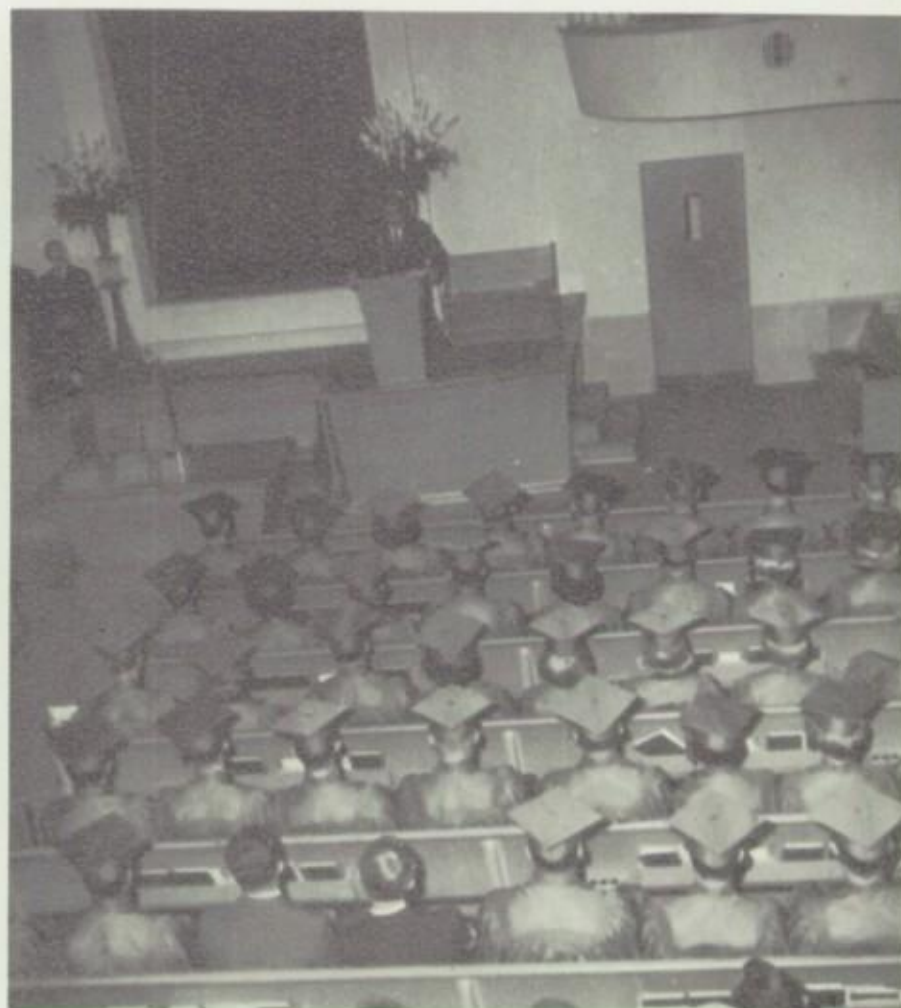

Senior cheerleaders and stars (?) pose during an intermission in the Junior-Senior Basketball Game.

For Crowning Memories

The final triumph is experienced as the graduating class marches to the strains of "God Of Our Fathers."

Our lasting impressions of Harding come from the relationships and associations we form while here.

The Student Council, led by Jimmy Parnell, has been one of our most active organizations this year. It consists of fourteen members elected each spring to serve the following year. Serving as a vital link between the students and the administration, the Student Council oversees student activities and projects. It has done this admirably as well as sponsoring several projects of its own. Among the duties of the Student Council are the noon prayers in the cafeteria, and the supervision of the suggestion box. The Council also represents Harding Academy in the Memphis Association of Student Councils, where it holds the office of chaplain. Harding Academy is indeed fortunate to have so active a voice in school government in so able an organization as the Student Council.

Jimmy Parnell organized Harding's part in the Teen-age March Against Leukemia, one of several Student Council projects.

Student Council leaders work with younger students as examples of citizenship in daily living at Harding Academy.

Council Presides Over Student Activities

The Student Council meets weekly to discuss and, hopefully, to eliminate problems within the school. It is their constant ambition to better Harding Academy and its relations with other schools in Memphis.

The A Cappella Chorus, under the direction of newcomer, Mr. Bob Sullins, was perhaps the most enjoyable group on campus, both to members and listeners. Many hours of rehearsal produced an excellent chorus, of which Harding can be proud.

After spending the first four months building a repertoire, the chorus began performing. The first major program was presented at a Rotary Club luncheon shortly before Christmas. Then began the weekly programs of hymns and sacred songs given at the various churches in the Memphis area. These programs were inspirational for all. The highlight of the year came in the annual spring chorus trip. This year's week-long trip consisted of a tour of our southern states and the Gulf coast. Concerts were given in local schools and churches in the visited area. Such an experience is never forgotten.

Annual Staff Strives Through

Miss Potter, Shield Sponsor, shares with Betty Bird, Editor, the trials and triumphs of producing an annual.

The Annual Staff begins each year with a group of optimistic and enthusiastic, young students, determined to produce a better Shield than has ever been done before them. The veterans return remembering the happier moments of the previous year. New members come seeking the opportunity of learning and impressing.

Everything begins smoothly, then-HELP! Our first deadline and a million and one things left to do. Now the rookies realize that it isn't all play. This yearbook is business!

Pressure builds, as Sponsor screams at Editor, and Editor screams at Staff. Somehow it is finished and now we wait. Wait. Wait. Then it is here. Our book. Our dreams. Our efforts. Now we watch. We watch for the smiles, the laughter that will make our book a success. Only then do we rest. Now all that remains are the happy memories-and our Shield.

Staff members Tommy Beasley and Carroll Burns help Co-Editor Marcia Black (Center) finish her section.

Assistant Editors Kathy Hutchison and Helen Howard (Seated) proofread copy and check layouts before mailing.

The Year To Make Shield A Success

Producing a yearbook is definitely a group effort. Here Johnny Chico, Carol Brown, Ron Parnell, Helen Maples, and Cecilia Philips work on the endless details necessary to finish the Shield.

Chi Alpha Sigma Wins Staff Approval

Chi Alpha Sigma is an organization composed of junior and senior high students willing to volunteer their free time in study hall and activity period to aid the school. It is sponsored by Mrs. Jeanne Benson, secretary to the superintendent, and Miss Potter, our librarian.

The members of Chi Alpha Sigma have many and varied tasks. Some work in the superintendent's or principal's office assisting the secretaries, while others serve in the library. The membership also includes students who grade papers, as well as those who help Mr. McConnell and Miss Oliver in the science labs.

One highlight of the year came in the annual Christmas party when students and sponsors exchanged gifts and enjoyed refreshments and entertainment.

Harding's staff and students certainly owe Chi Alpha Sigma a debt of gratitude for the invaluable service rendered them by these cooperative students.

Debate Club Creates Interest In Speech

The Debate Club, coached by Mr. Bill Srygley, consists of students who are interested in speech and debate. Meetings are held weekly during which current topics are discussed and debated, with Mr. Srygley acting as judge. Harding is represented by members of the Debate Club at various speech tournaments in both the Memphis area and in other parts of the state. The annual Southern Speech Association tournament is rotated about the South each year. This year it was held in Miami, Florida. For several years Harding Academy has sent representatives. This year four students were chosen on the basis of their forensic accomplishments to make the trip with Mr. Srygley to represent Harding. Each year a Forensic Tournament is sponsored for the high school. Prizes are awarded, and a trophy is presented the class with the most accumulated points.

Secretary Pam Brickell confers with teammate John Scott and sponsor, Mr. Srygley concerning her next debate.

Officers are, front row: M. Boyce, S. Leader; S. Hosey, V. Pres., Second row: M. Oliver, Spon.; C. Keslar, Sec.; M. Stepherson, Pres.; P. Brickell, Treas.; C. Batey, Spon.

Our F.H.A. got off to a good start this year by inducting twelve new members into the club at a formal initiation in early November. This followed a less formal, but more interesting initiation, held one day at school. Neither initiation will be easily forgotten.

The F.H.A. is composed of senior high girls who have taken at least one year of Home Economics. It is a national organization with the purpose and aim of producing better homemakers and promoting international good-will. Shortly before Christmas the F.H.A. held their annual Bazaar in which they make and display food and handicrafts. This event is enjoyed by all. The annual F.H.A. banquet was held at the White Station church building in December. A good time was enjoyed by all. We feel that the F.H.A. has succeeded in bettering all who have had a part in it.

Jr. High Chorus Builds Musical Talent

The Junior High Chorus is made up of seventh and eighth grade students who enjoy music and like to sing. This is a first experience in choral work, for many, and it was rewarding as well as enjoyable.

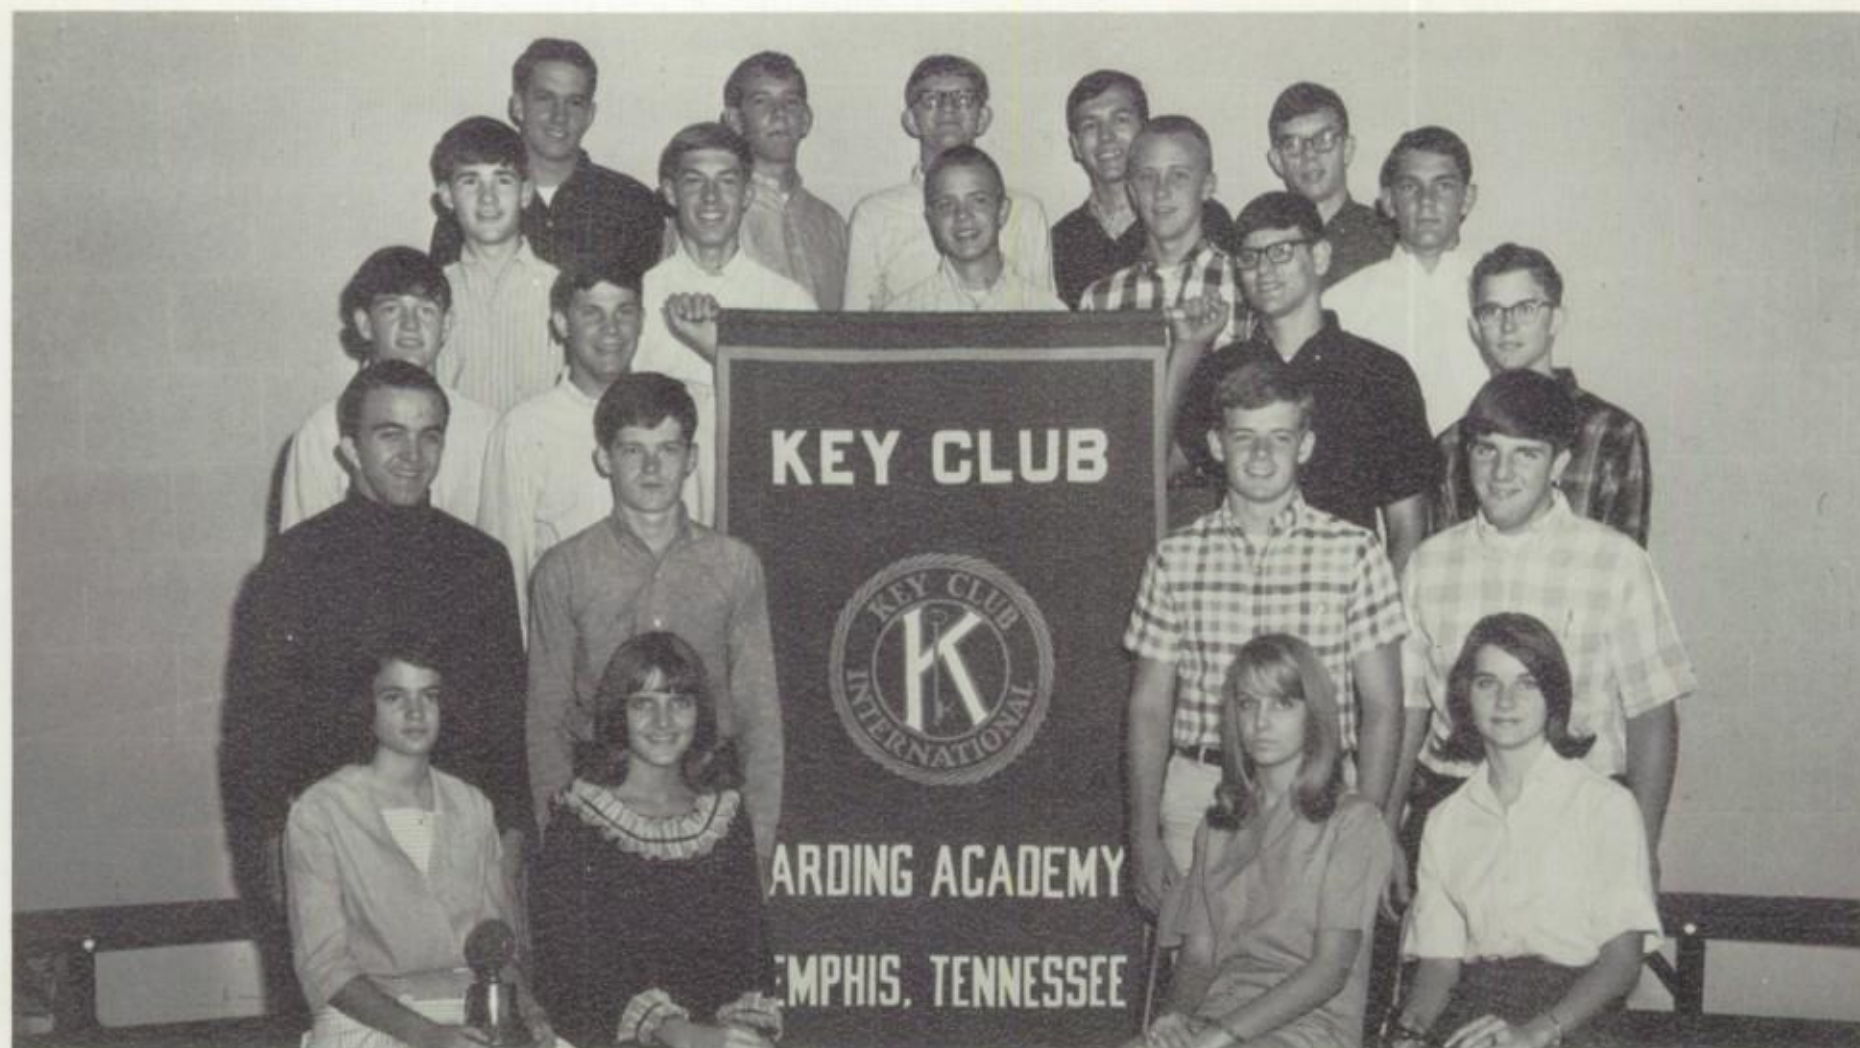

The Chorus worked up a program of hymns and sacred songs which they presented to the Mother's Club. They also sang for some hospital and invalid groups. The presentations were enjoyed.

The group contained a girl's sextet, consisting of Brenda Benson, Nancy Daugherty, Dayle Higgs, Carol Beasley, Glenda Chambliss, and Catherine Gillespie.

Mr. Bob Sullins, who directed this group, as well as the Senior High Chorus, is certainly well qualified. He sang in the Harding College A Cappella Chorus for four and a half years. He has also sung in several operas. He currently teaches Music Appreciation here at Harding.

Officers are: M. Tomlinson, Libn., G. Chambliss, Pres., Mr. Sullins, Sponsor, B. Wooten, V. Pres., and C. Cooper, Sec.

Key Club Seeks To Better Harding

Officers are, seated: E. Collinsworth, Bus. Man.; J. Parnell, V. Pres.; D. Priest, Pres.; D. Sain, Treas.; S. Kendrick, Sec. Standing is Mr. McConnell, Sponsor.

The Key Club is a service organization made up of boys in grades nine through twelve who show initiative by participation in certain school activities. For football games the Key Club members run the concession stand, sell programs and megaphones, distribute game schedules and clean up the field after the games. They have similar activities during the basketball season. They collect songbooks after chapel each morning, and finance the annual Junior High Athletic Banquet. In the spring the club co-sponsors Career Day with the National Honor Society.

Harding's Key Club is in District One of the tri-state area which includes Tennessee, Mississippi, and Louisiana. The Memphis Kiwanis Club sponsors them and selects an advisor each year.

The club selects four sweethearts every fall. This year's girls are Kathy Simpson, Becky Foxworth, Donna Rhodes, and Mary Lipford.

Language Club Studies Foreign Culture

The Language Club spent an active year, enlarging and developing their group in its second year at Harding Academy. Sponsored by Mrs. George Beasley, the membership consisted of students who had taken at least one year of a foreign language and maintained an acceptable grade average.

Studying and understanding foreign cultures are the basic aims of the Language Club. This is partially accomplished by listening to guest speakers who have lived in other countries. Occasionally members were treated to a show of slides or films taken by the speakers. Reports on different phases of life in various countries were presented by some of the students.

Trips to restaurants around Memphis were made to sample foreign cuisine. They helped the students gain a better insight into the daily lives of citizens from other countries.

The Language Club plays an important role in the cultural development of students at Harding Academy. Its activities are enjoyed by all.

Lionettes Help Boost School Spirit

Officers are standing: Miss Oliver, Sponsor; J. Matthews, Treas.; S. Hosey, V. Pres. Kneeling are: D. Richie, Sec.; D. Poe, Pres.

The Lionettes is an honorary group consisting of girls in senior high school who have been approved by the faculty for membership. Cheerleaders are automatically included.

The purpose of the organization is to promote school spirit and better Harding Academy. The girls are expected to excel in school activities and to maintain a good academic standing. Attendance at all home games is required.

A major project the Lionettes sponsor is the annual football Homecoming Game. They have charge of decorations and the actual ceremony of crowning the queen. Afterwards an informal party is held.

National Honor Society Inaugurated

This was the first year for the National Honor Society at Harding Academy. Sponsored by Mr. Charles Sheumaker, the club had ten charter members, all juniors or seniors. They were carried over from the Beta Club, which was formerly Harding's honor organization.

One of the major events of the year in the National Honor Society was the initiation of new members. Ten Juniors and Seniors, already selected, without their knowledge, were picked from the audience in chapel, early in December. They received their certificates and membership cards and recited the pledge.

Qualifications for membership are: above average academic achievement, approval by the faculty, and outstanding character. The person must show qualities of leadership.

The organization was established to inspire and reward academic work and good citizenship.

Paper Staff Keeps Harding Informed

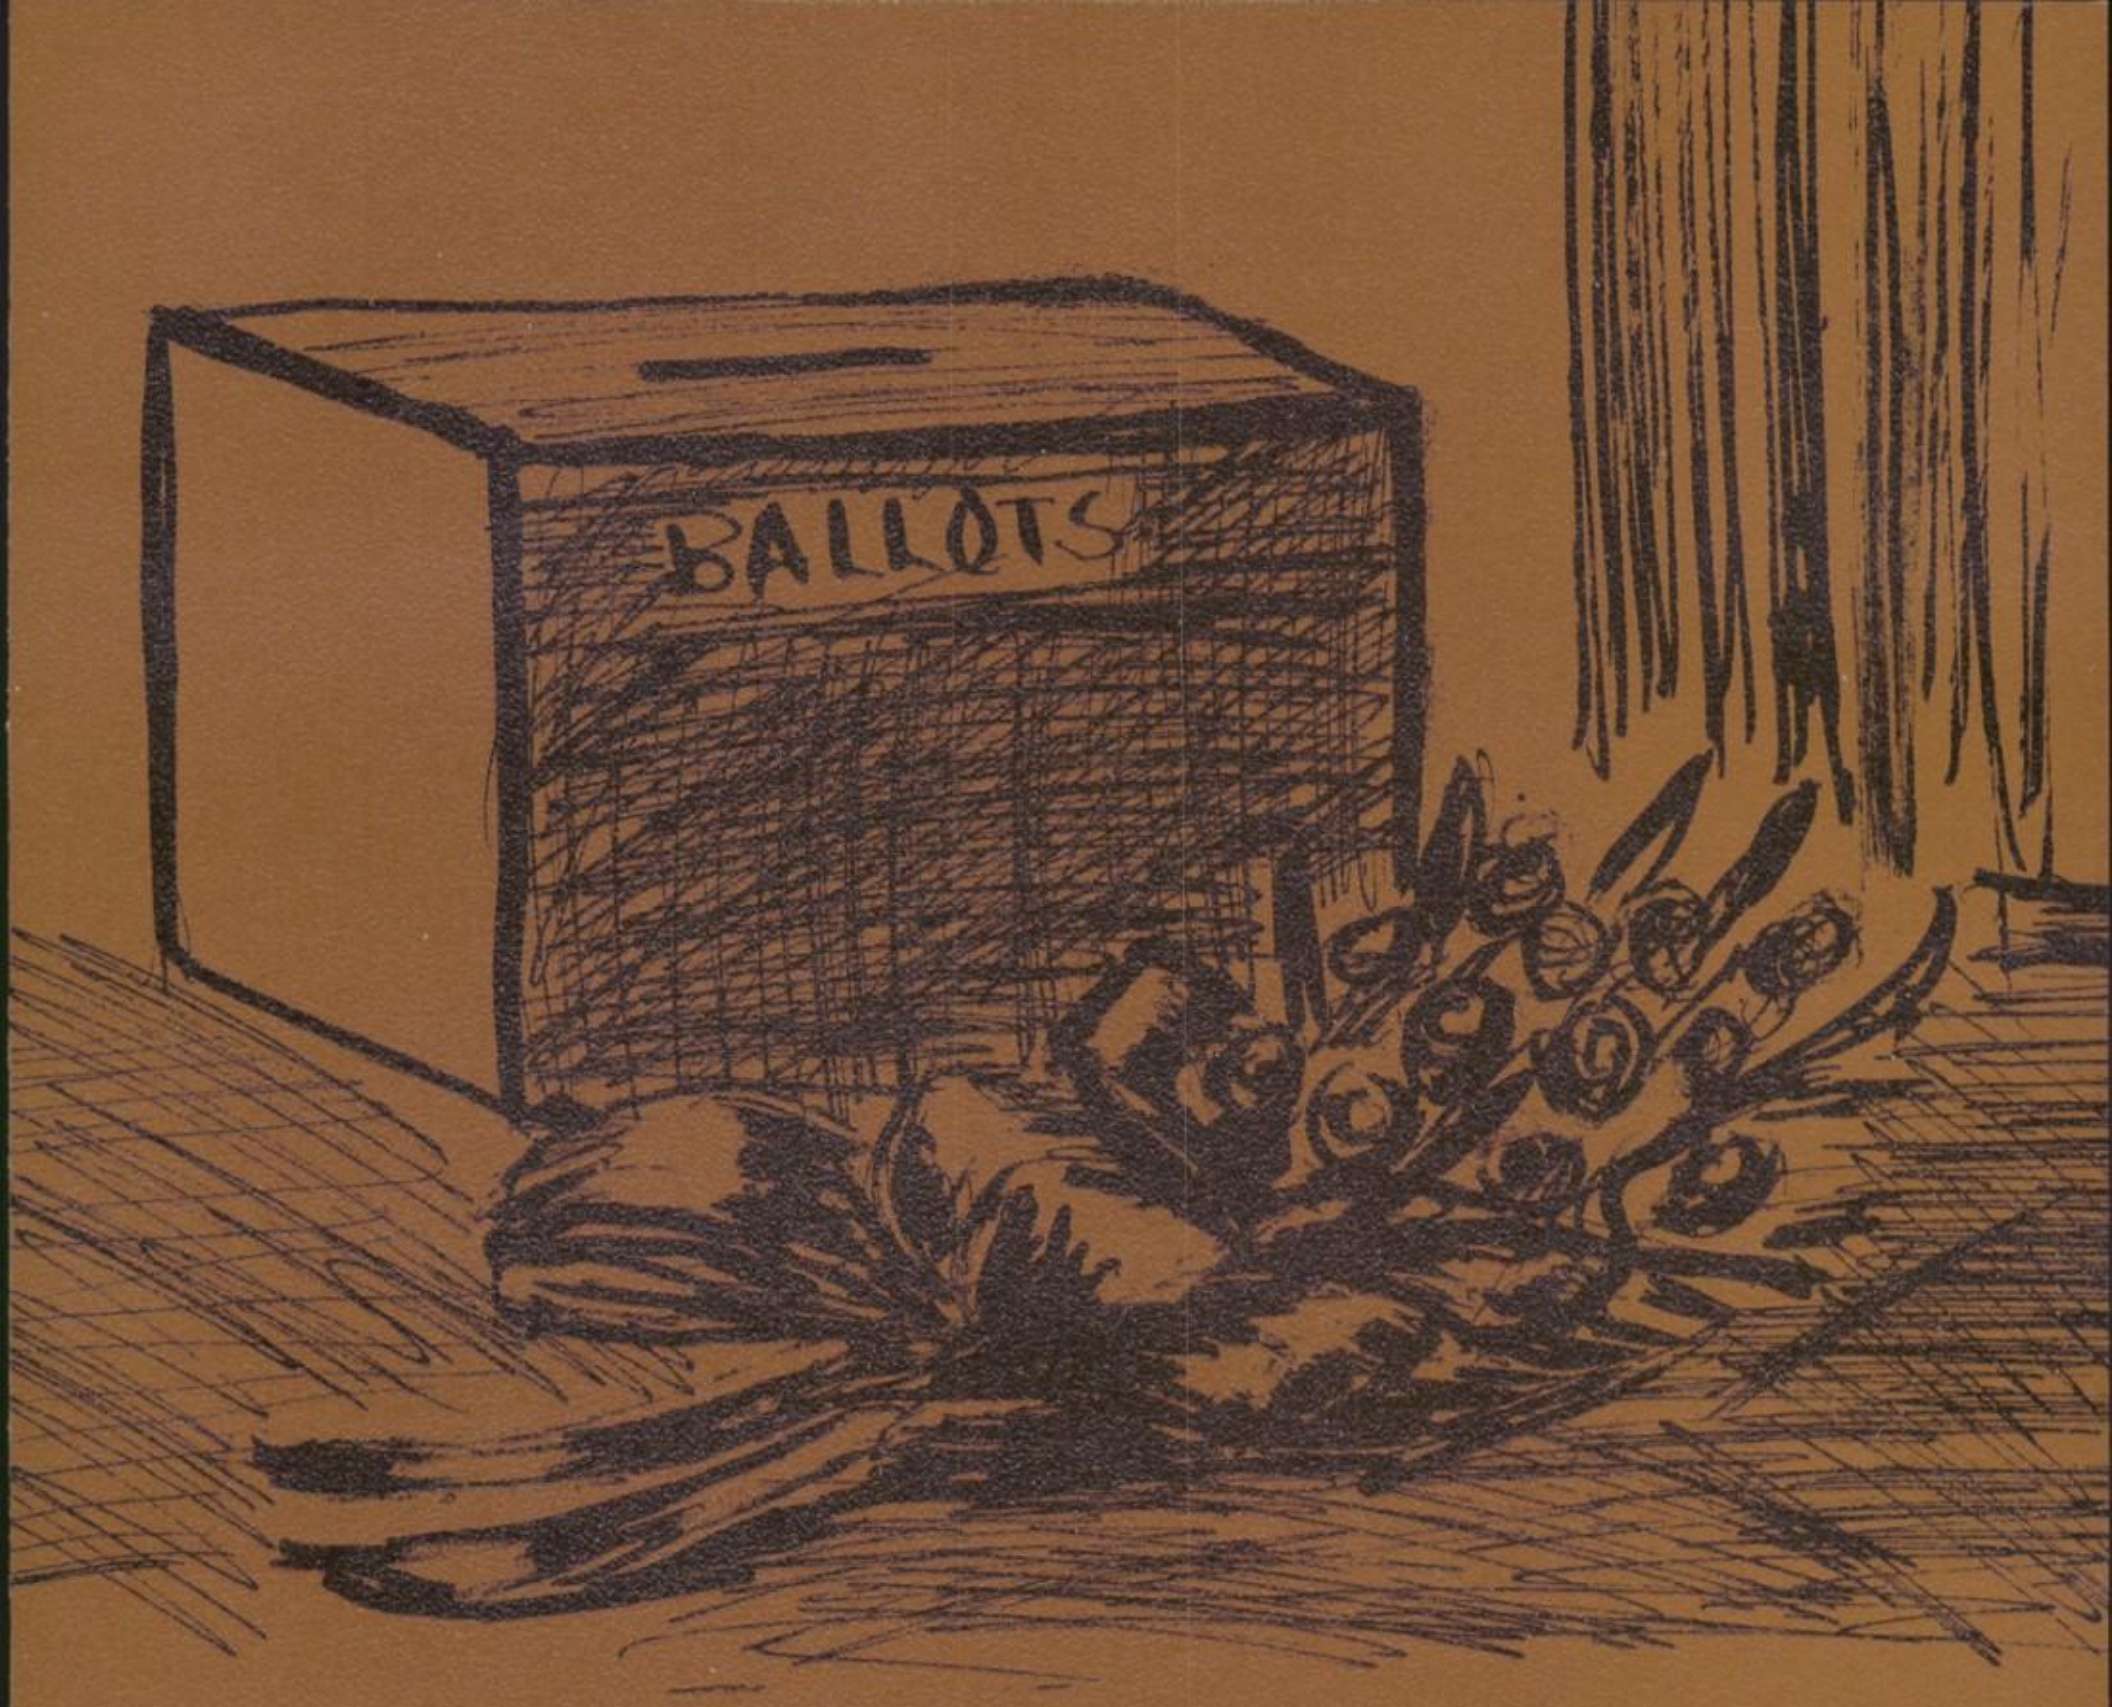

Editors Anne Hall (Standing) and Diane Poe confer with Bus. Man. Bill Robertson while typing copy.

A reorganized Paper Staff awaited Harding Academy this year. The students observed staff members working hard and eagerly awaited their first issue. It came in the form of a special edition on Homecoming night. This issue was examined and approved by Academy students.

Regular monthly publication of the Lion began in October. It featured a wide range of topics, from editorials to fashions, or from sports to jokes. The paper also carried straight news stories of current events at Harding Academy. A handy calendar of future events was included.

In early fall, Editor Anne Hall and Bus. Man. Bill Robertson visited a journalism clinic at Immaculate Conception. Later the entire staff attended the annual clinic sponsored by the Commercial Appeal. At this time classes were given on all phases of newspaper work. As is obvious from this year's Lions, the classes were well applied in our fine paper.

FEATURES

Regal beauty, Pam Brickell presents her usual loveliness in her formal pose as 1966 Homecoming Queen.

Presenting Her Majesty

Homecoming night was one filled with suspense and enthusiasm. Everyone was anxious to find out who would be the 1965 Homecoming Queen. Preceding the football game, the seven girls were driven across the field in shiny new convertibles by their fathers. As the girls were escorted to the throne the Harding College Band played. Mr. Srygley was the announcer throughout the evening.

He announced that second alternate was Dee Richie, and first alternate, Mary Jean Lipford. As everyone waited anxiously Butch Scott, football team co-captain, crowned Pam Brickell, and the other co-captain, Phil Rogers, presented her with a bouquet of roses.

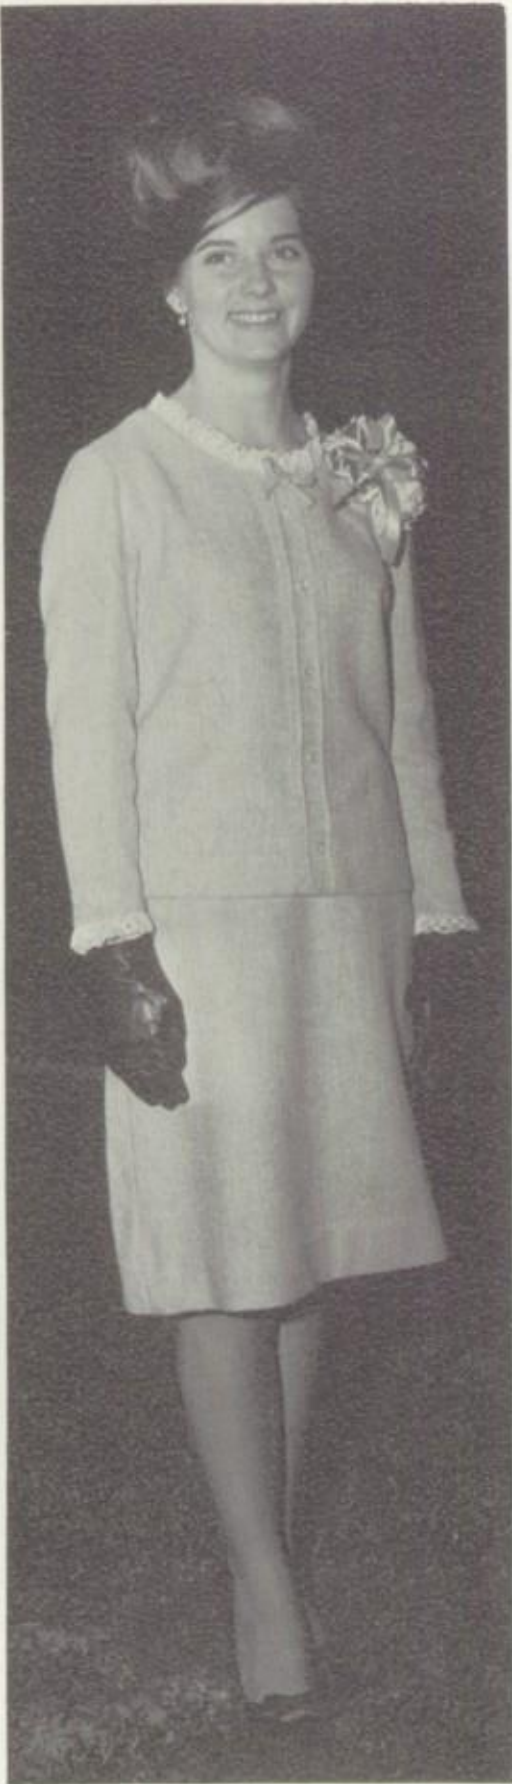

There was excitement on the field and enchantment on the sidelines as Queen Pam and her maids reigned over the highlight of the football season.

The highlight of the evening finally arrived as Pam Brickell ascended her throne.

Miss Harding Reflects Grace

BETTY BIRD proves that both beauty and brains can be compatible. Standing second in her senior class she has maintained a nearly straight A average while including many extracurricular activities. Her radiant smile has captivated the hearts of many of her fellow students and her willingness to work has been proven in many instances. She truly represents Harding, "our Christian joy and pride."

Mr. Harding Proves Gallantry

JIMMY PARNELL as Student Council President manifests leadership, responsibility, and school spirit. The zeal with which he tackles any school project insures its prompt and efficient completion. An optimistic attitude and his irrepressible spirit enliven the many activities in which he takes part. His dedication to upholding high ideals is evident by active participation in church, civic, and school affairs.

Phil Rogers and Susan Benson

Susan Benson and Phil Rogers were chosen by the student body as the first alternates to Mr. and Miss Harding. This is in itself quite an honor for they both possess many qualities necessary to gain such recognition. Susan is known for her versatility in school activities. Phil has represented Harding in athletics and has made an excellent showing.

Alternate Honorees Rate Our Esteem

Second alternates to Mr. and Miss Harding were Pam Brickell and Ford Moore. Each of them has always been an ardent Harding booster. While Pam is noted for her modeling and dress, Ford's highest point is athletics. Pam was also crowned as Homecoming Queen. Both have enjoyed many honors during the year. They will always be an active example for all to follow.

It is quite an honor to be recognized as an outstanding Senior. This means that these five girls have maintained a high academic average throughout high school and scored very high on the ACT test. Several of these girls will receive scholarships to various colleges throughout the nation. We are certain that they will be very successful in all their undertakings.

Apprehension and excitement are felt by each senior as graduation creeps round the corner.

Beauties Heralded As Sweethearts

Donna Rhodes, Sophomore

The purposes of the Key Club are to develop initiative and leadership, to provide experience in living and working together to serve the school and the community, to prepare for useful citizenship, and to accept and promote ideals. The boys work to create and maintain sound public opinion and high idealism so that justice, good will and patriotism will prevail. They learn to build the home, school, and community and to serve the nation and God. The boys choose sweethearts each year to help in various projects which the Key Club has. The Key Club Sweethearts this year were Donna Rhodes from the sophomore class, Kathy Simpson from the junior class and Mary Lipford from the senior class.

For her talent Susan captivates the audience by singing "I Feel Pretty" from Westside Story.

Harding's Junior Miss Places In Finals

A sparkling personality and top-notch talent in the form of pert Susan Benson represented Harding Academy in the city-wide Junior Miss Pageant early this fall. Chosen by the faculty, Susan began working on the talent number, accompanied by Larry Luton entitled "I Feel Pretty." Weeks of luncheons, teas, and television interviews followed in honor of the young beauties. Her determination and winning smile carried her throughout the festivities and into the glamorous final evening of competition, where she won her way to a finalist's position in the contest. The girls were tested in fields of physical fitness, talent, personality, and academics. Susan ranked high in each of the areas. We had many reasons to show pride in our entry for 1966.

Susan's representation for Harding's Junior Miss was performed in a gracious way enjoyed by all.

Sportsmanship And Masculinity Mark An Athlete

Agile Phil Rogers desperately attempts to run up the score for the Harding Lion team.

Determination and capability are two of the characteristics of Phil Rogers. As a junior transfer student he was ineligible to participate in athletics until his senior year. He then showed his athletic ability and team spirit. He served as co-captain of the football team and quarterbacked the Lions into their best season. He sparked the basketball team as a forward and the high point scorer. Phil was also outstanding as a baseball pitcher in the spring. Harding Academy's loss will be Harding College's gain if he accepts the basketball scholarship offered to him in the fall of '66. "Most athletic" is an honor bestowed by the coaches on the most well-rounded athlete of the year.

The major purpose of the "H" Club is to honor the athletes. They are responsible for purchasing the gifts for cheerleaders and coaches when athletic banquet time rolls around. This money is raised by dues and projects. Football players comprise the majority of the club. Officers are elected each year. The vice president ascends to the presidency the following year.

Cubs Show Promise

Three of the five games the junior high lost were within one touchdown of being a different story. Again, size was the deciding factor as was proven by the Raineshaven game with both teams being equal in this factor. Harding was the victor with more than twice the yardage. The high point of the season would have to be the Millington game where the boys were outweighed twenty-five pounds per man. The game was equal in statistics with only the five points telling the difference. Jerry Rubio and Steve Bowie were the elected team captains. Of the team Coach Mays said, "I've never coached a more hard working or determined team."

Serving as the inspiration, leader, and coach of the junior high football team was Coach Walt Mays.

Heading the Cubs to their victories against all odds was their inspiration and coach, Jerry Mote.

The Harding Cubs had a successful basketball season this year. It also proved to be a very exciting season with many close games. The Cubs were never beaten by more than seven points in League games. Their league record was 5-3. Their overall record was 9-6, which was the best record for a Junior High team in the history of the school.

Coach Mote was well pleased with the effort and desire to win each time they played. Nearly every team in the league had the height advantage over the Cubs. The Cubs had good defense and balanced scoring throughout the season. Steve Bowie and Harold Bodiford both played well at guard all year. Jerry Rubio, Dennis Austein and Richard Snow did an outstanding job of rebounding with Rubio also being a consistent scorer all year. Ricky Betts proved to be very valuable to the Cubs by being able to play both guard and forward equally well. Coach Mote believes David Sullins, Bob Mason, Jeff Butler, Harry Hutchison and the rest of the "B" team will represent the school well next year.

Cheerleaders Add Fire To The Cubs

Building enthusiasm during pre-game pep rallies is the job of the junior high cheerleaders.

No team would be complete without its cheerleaders. These girls are at every game to root for their boys. Endless hours of practice are spent in preparing new cheers and perfecting old ones. Their efforts are often a big factor in winning or losing a game. When the going gets tough the cheerleaders are around trying to rebuild the lost enthusiasm. They, in a sense, are the unsung heroes of the court and field. Another part of their job is the building of enthusiasm for a coming game during the pep rallies. The cheerleaders are responsible for getting the fans ready for a game, while the coach gets the boys ready for the game.

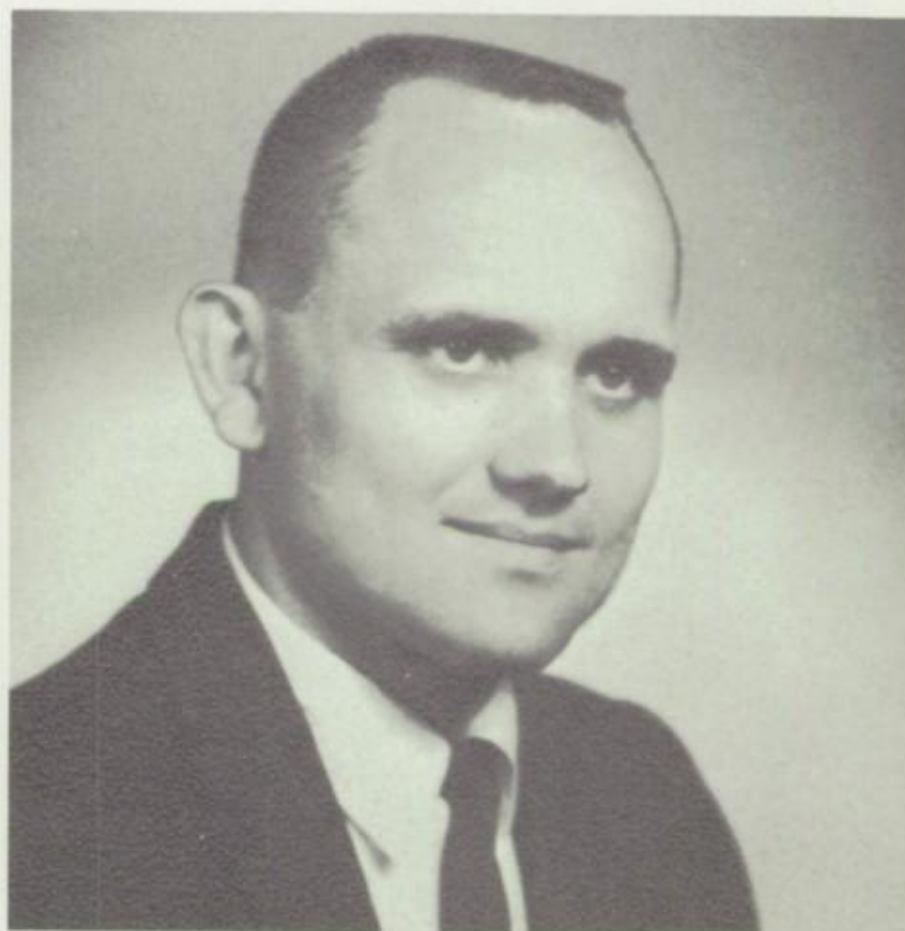

Shooting free throws is a very important part of basketball. Coach Mays teaches them the proper technique. Practice makes perfect so the boys shoot and shoot and shoot and shoot . . .

Pee Wee's Gain Experience For Coming Years

Experience is the best teacher. The best way to have good high school teams is to start their training early in life. This is one of the purposes of the elementary basketball team. They are learning now the basic fundamentals of the game. They practice every day for about an hour. During this time they improved in dribbling, shooting, and all around physical shape. By getting this training they will be in better health and better prepared for future play in sports. Their hard work was rewarded with a good season. These boys have begun forming good competitive habits, which will become more defined in the future.

Forming the backbone of the elementary basketball team is their leader and coach, Walt Mays.

The real leaders of any team are the coaches. Hours are spent making plays, developing players, and giving personal instruction. They analyze every situation during the game, send in plays, and give hints to the individual players.

Pee Wee's Train For The Future

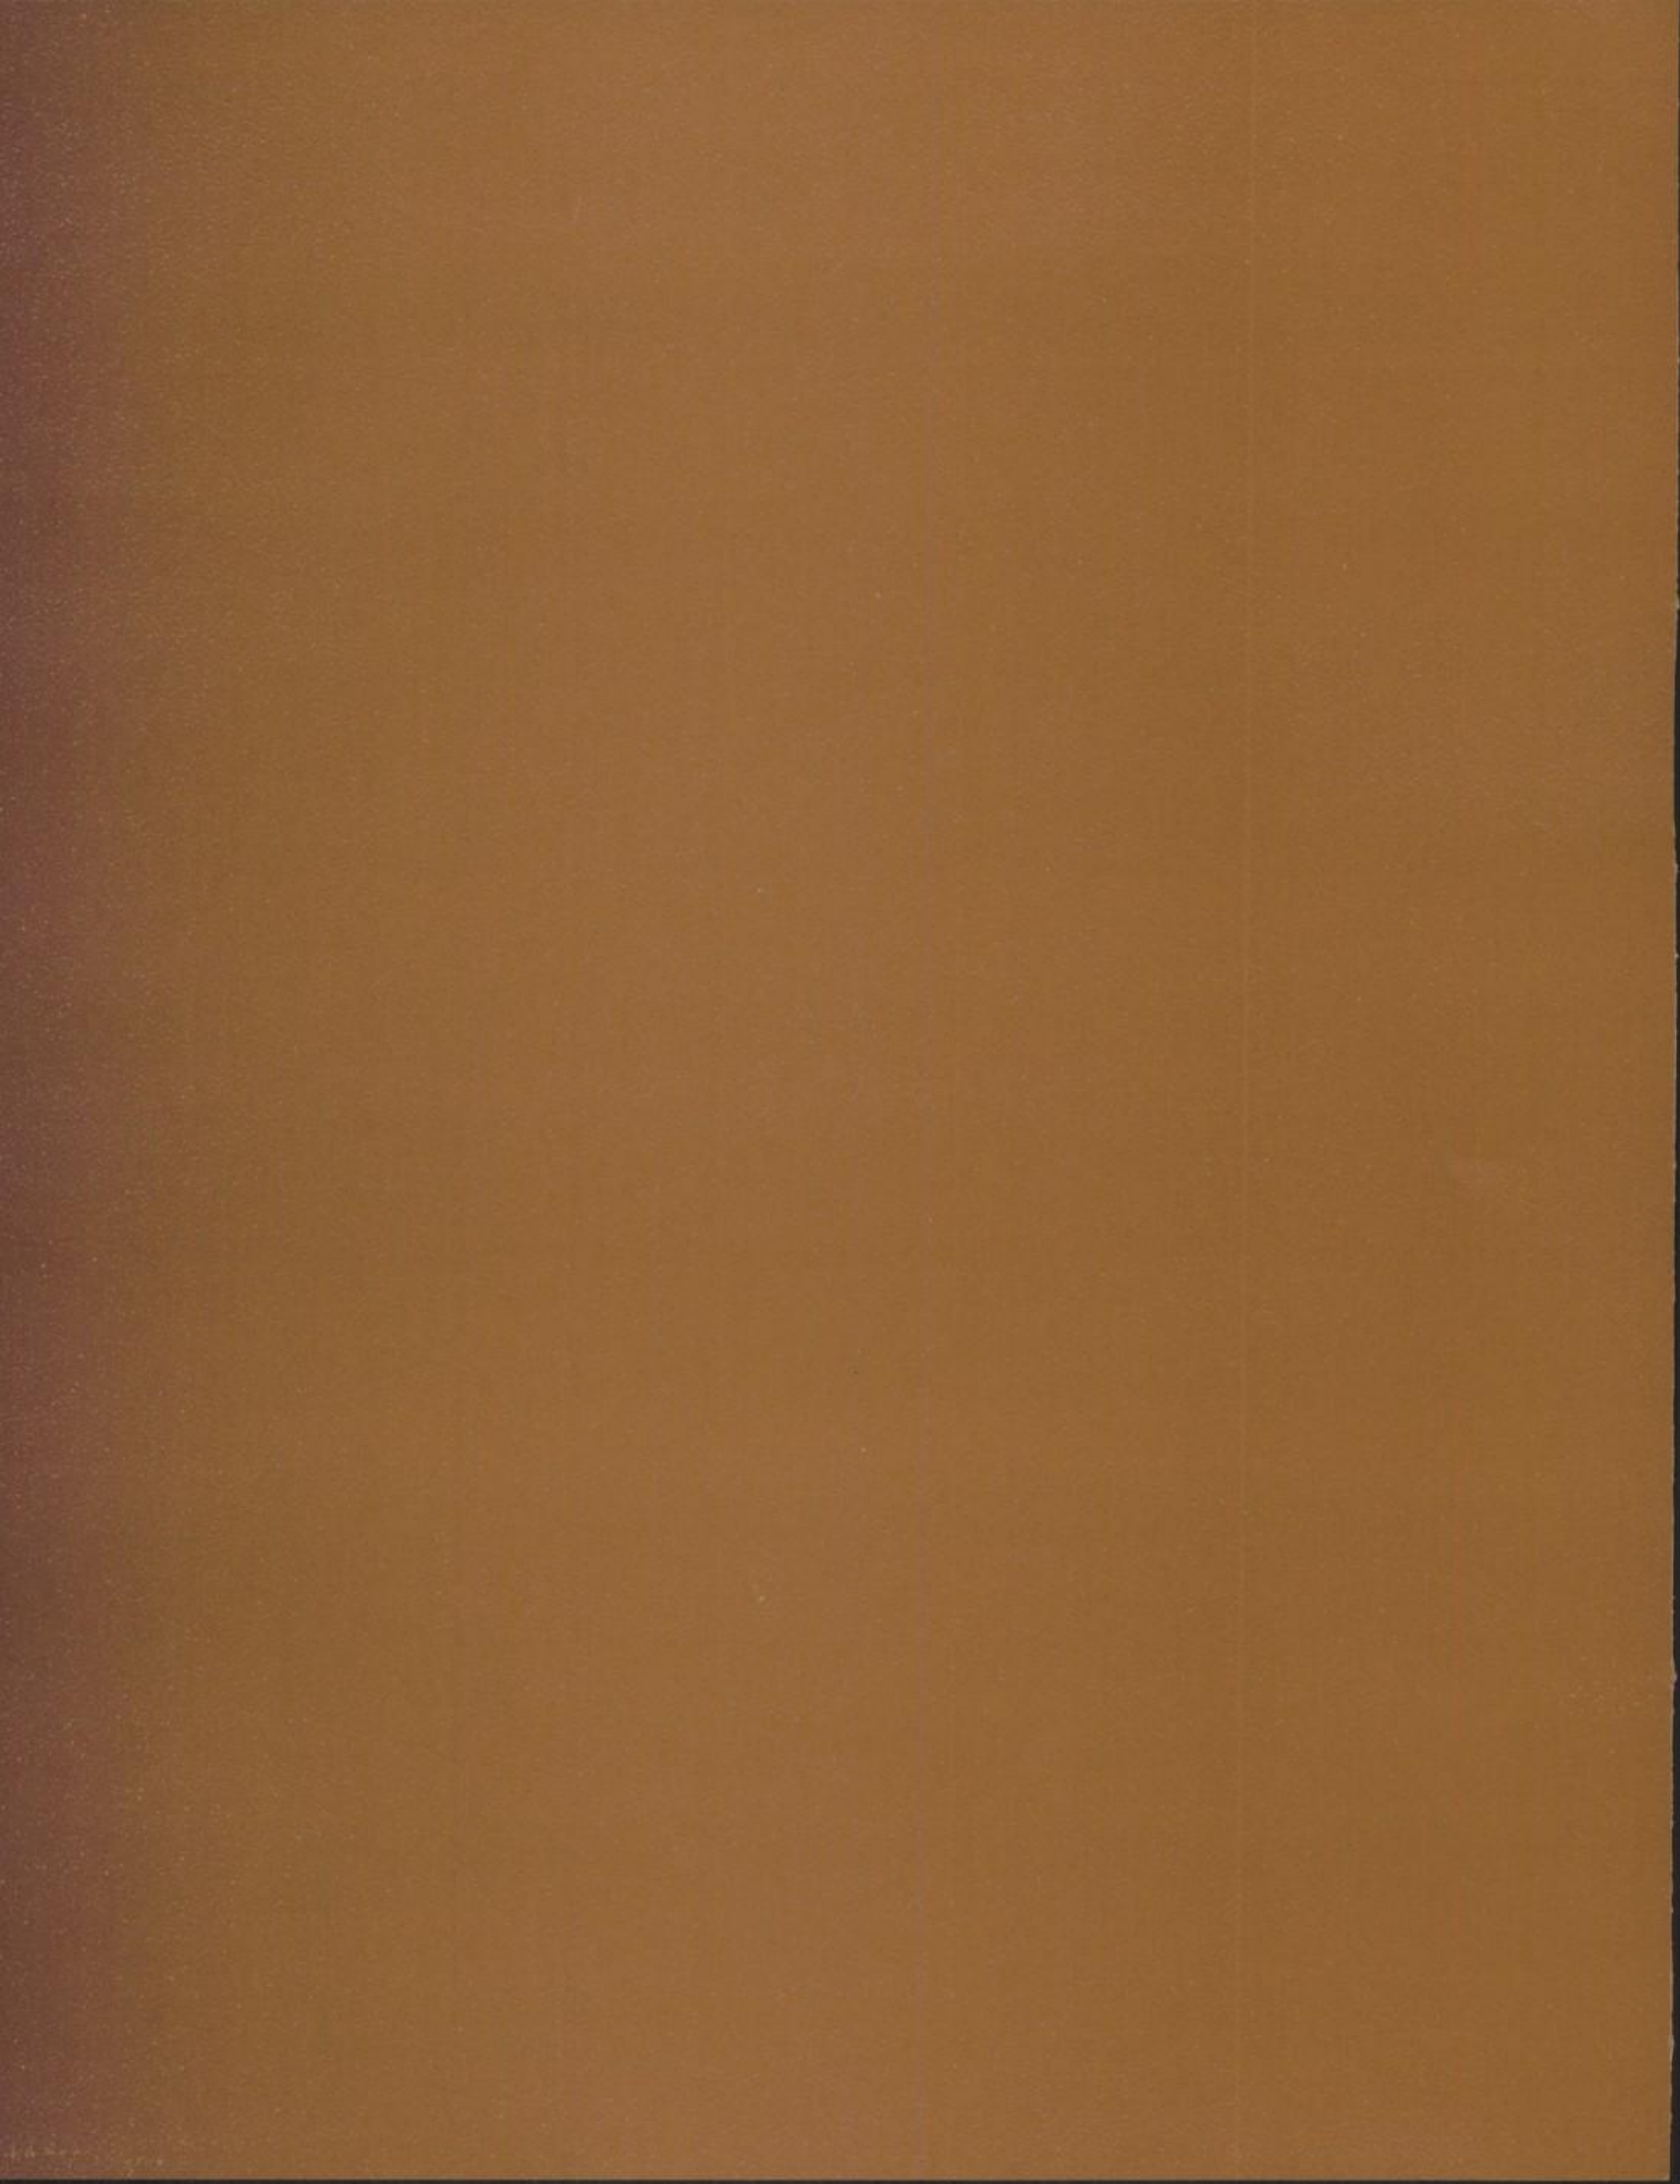

Coach David Simpson directed the Pee Wee's in a program of controlled exercise and practice.

The elementary school participated in the touch football program supervised by the Memphis Park Commission. Approximately twenty fifth and sixth grade boys practiced six hours a week in preparation for each league game. The games, which were played at Overton Park, gave the Elementary players a chance to learn the fundamentals of football. Coach Simpson stated the aims of the touch football program as follows: the development of a wholesome competitive spirit, the learning of the fundamentals of football and the improvement of their physical fitness.

Last Chapter Completed

The Seniors ran the gamut of activities, from Homecoming in the fall to the Banquet and graduation in the spring, and not a moment was wasted. Thoughts of pictures, invitations and caps and gowns were sandwiched in between homework, dates and parties. Taking final exams, applying to colleges and vocational schools and jobs filled the last moments until graduation. When the '66 Seniors look back on this year, these will only be a few of their memories.

JUNIORS

They Pinch Pennies

Whenever the Juniors groaned and rubbed their feet, you could be certain they were involved in some sort of project to make money for the Junior-Senior Banquet.

They sponsored two car washes, two dinners, and a Valentine Week, but they still found time for other extra-curricular activities. The boys participated in football and basketball and helped M.H.A. to have its best year, sports-wise. The girls represented the Juniors on the Homecoming Court, by leading cheers, and in numerous other ways.

It was a lot of work, but it was worth it when they received their rings and finally became Seniors.

SOPHOMORES

Growing Toward Leadership Through

Harding sophomores, with a will to work, showed themselves both capable and industrious.

Both the football and basketball teams profited from the determined efforts of the fellows while the girls proved their mettle in the chorus, girls' octet, Lionettes and F.H.A. Together, they sold spray-on shoe polish to raise money for various projects and bent their backs to the growing demands of high school studies.

Even to the casual observer, it is evident that the sophomores are an up-and-coming group.

The Climb Begins —

The Freshmen were as busy as the proverbial bees, as is usually the case the first year of high school. They tackled science projects, stacks on stacks of homework, and "Romeo and Juliet" in a style that alternately pleased and shocked their teachers, depending, of course, on the student, the teacher, and the work.

The highlight of the year came in the form of a semi-formal party at the Carousel restaurant, held shortly before the Christmas holidays.

Their sponsors for the year were Mrs. Claude Bates and Mrs. S. D. Favara.

EIGHTH GRADE

Eighth-Graders Are:

Finishing up their two years in junior high school, the eighth grade became more accustomed to the schedules and requirements of high school life. They had the distinction of being the largest class in both junior and senior high, with fifty-three members.

Sponsored by Mr. Jerry Mote and Mr. Bill Srygley, they added several honors to their class record last year. Tommy Barnes won the Mothers' Club Candy Sale by selling 442 bags and received a portable television for his efforts.

They had good representation in sports, also. On the junior high football team there were fourteen eighth-graders and sixteen boys played basketball.

They Enter Exhilarating Junior High

Entering junior high school is always an exciting experience, and last year was no exception as the energetic seventh graders found out what their predecessors meant when they talked of semester exams and "hard" teachers.

They began the year with an ice-skating party at the Coliseum and ended the year with another party in the spring. Six boys played basketball on the junior-high team and several also represented the class on the football team. There were two cheerleaders from the class who helped spark the Cubs on to victory.

1966 Is An Exciting Year to Be at

David Lipscomb College

Lipscomb students will have an important part in the 75th Anniversary Year Observance, October 5, 1965 through October 9, 1966. Four-quarter study is attracting more and more students to Lipscomb in the Summer Quarter. Few can find summer jobs that pay as well as will the completion of a full quarter's work at Lipscomb. By qualifying for permanent employment earlier through year-round study, they can add materially to their life income.

For full information on four-quarter Christian education at Lipscomb, address all correspondence to:

ACADEMY GRADS GET AROUND

One needs only look in any direction on the Harding College campus, and chances are that he will see one or more graduates of Harding Academy of Memphis. A big reason is that young people like you fit in at Harding.

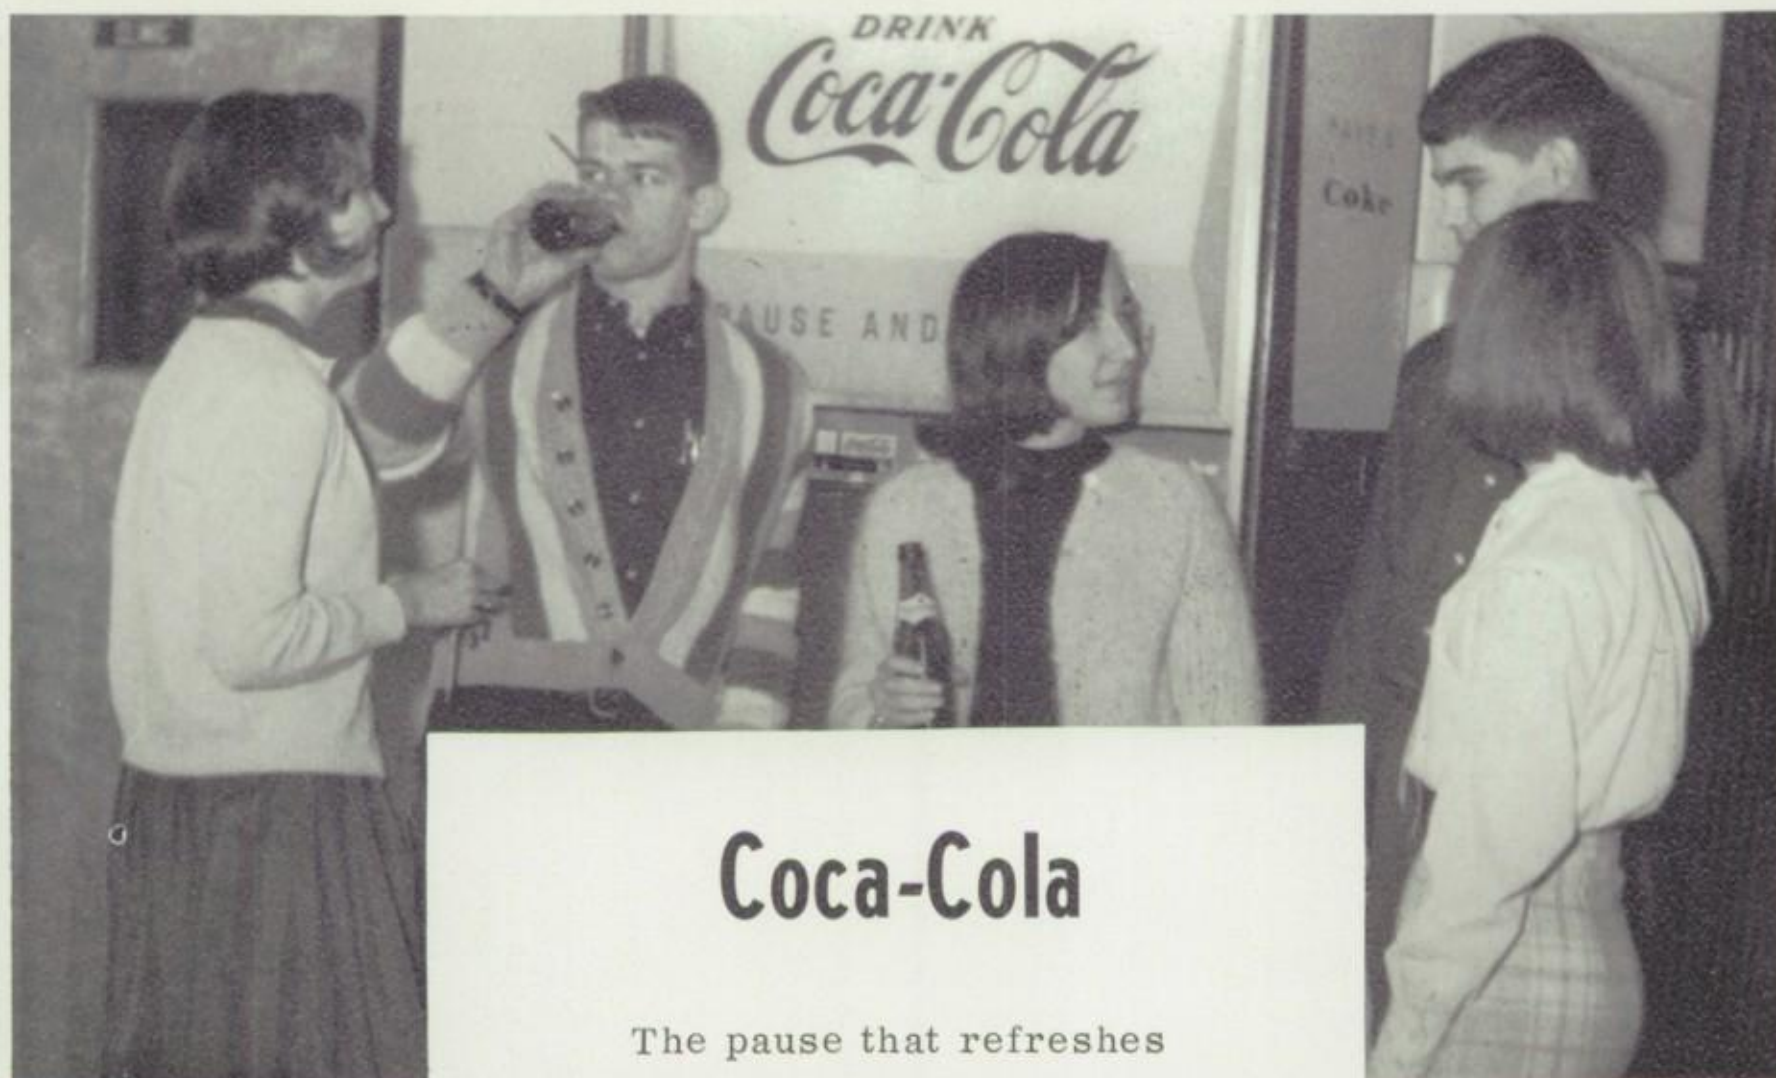

Take Ronn Rubio and Pat Lyon, for instance. Ronn is one of the brightest prospects on the Harding Bison football team and no doubt has a bright three years ahead of him. Pat Lyon is a student photographer for the Publicity Office and is coming through like an old pro.

You, too, will surely fit well here, because you have had the kind of start that makes ideal college students. Also, you should remember the importance of the Christian foundation you already have and determine to continue to build on the Rock of Eternity.

While you are getting a Christ-founded education you will also be getting first-class academic training. We would like to tell you more, so write us, please. Or, better still, come and see us.

Advantages

The junior college bridges the gap between high school and senior college. Students receive close personal attention. The cost is very reasonable. A monthly payment plan is provided.

A Year-Round Education

This year-round education program started in 1965. A student can finish two years of college work the second summer after high school graduation. High school juniors in the top twenty-five per cent of their class may attend summer school before their senior year of high school.

Financial Aids

Each student with a "B" average or above on the solids in high school will be awarded a $300 scholarship. Those who make a composite score of 25 on the A. C. T. will be awarded $600. If you are interested in federal grants, National Defense Loans, or work-study programs, write for information at once.

D'Etta,

You're a nut! But you're sweet and adorable and I like you alot.
We've had so much fun this year with the boys!! Next year I know we'll have a blast. You are so cute!! I'm so jealous of that great looking blonde hair! Stay sweet & be good and Have fun with your grandparents!!!

Love,
Becky

Beck-a-lee,
pig-woman
&
fella!)

D'Etta
May God bless
you and keep you.

D'Etta,

always remember
me, but of course
how could you forget. D'Etta always remember that you're just as good as Queen
if not better.

Nancy.

Chuck Swalt

D'Etta,
you and Becky sure have been swell this year.
Stay sweet,

Alan

Delta:

I like you, even if Buddy doesn't.
Don't let him get you down. Bill R.

Good luck always
Stay sweet!
Butch

Delta-
A real good friend of mine who's hope
the feeling is mutual Stay always nice sweet & outgoing you are now. You'll do fine. Love
Nancy

Is a great kid and one day ~~you~~ you'll be a great looking one.

Chuck Swalt

(call me when you're a senior)

D'Etta:
a great girl
who gave me with me. History
Good luck!
Paul

It has been nice knowing you this year and I wish we could have become better acquainted.

Love Always,

Ford

Delta,

To a real sweet girl.
I hope you will stay
as sweet as you are.

Your good friend

Sharon

"Delta,"

You're an old pig! I think you're awfully cute, sweet and everything else too! Be good and I'll see you this summer
pig!

Love,
Cindy

D'Etta

You're a real nice girl and you've been nice to me. I hope you are next year too.

Billy

D'Etta,

You are just about the cutest person I know You're a real doll. I am so glad we're friends
Best Wishes Always.

Love
Carroll

D'Etta,
You are a great girl.
I hope you get what you want out of life.

Duane

D'Etta,
You're a real nice girl. Hope you have a nice summer.
Love ya,
Dyane
